Python Includes a Tool for Making a Beautiful Statement - mattculbreth ===== bjclark I don't want to flame the author in any way. I believe him to be a great programmer and friend. And as he mentions, this is a tool meant to speed up his life. I do want to ask a question: what is the process for submitting stuff to python.org? Does it have to be made by the person who wrote it? Or does he have to see if they want it added? ---- mattculbreth I uploaded it to PYPi (Python Package Index) in about 15 seconds. ----- edw519 Sometimes I think Python works because it is so general that it has far more opportunities for optimization than the vast majority of languages. BTW, if this is your language of choice, I want to use it too. Growth hormone and the anaesthetic ether. The effects of exogenous growth hormone, administered intravenously to anaesthetized rats, on gas exchange have been investigated in awake animals. No significant effect was seen in PaO2, PaCO2, pH or inspired O2 and CO2. However, acetone levels rose and both carbon dioxide and oxygen consumption fell. These changes
