June 28, 2013 - Well, we can do that when it comes to graphics updates and even roster updates, especially now that we have the RED Modding Center. This is another. We're going to give you some tips on posting our charts and lists, which you can post on your websites or blogs. To date, we have found quite a few resources that allow us to share our lists with the public. Some of them are quite old, but others like Google, Reddit, Twitter or LinkedIn are quite new and have quite a lot of features.
