Engine: Unreal Engine 3 Art Style: 2.5D / Cell-shaded Art Direction: The quirky art style was influenced by the early 80's that carried with it low-poly models and 2D art. The cell-shaded render style was chosen to add an alternative and witty art style to a 2D and 3D image of the game. Misc: Ending Theme: "Reaching for The Sun" by Secret Machines. We've heard the term many times, and seen it in print many times, but let's explain what's going on here: If there are more than three dots, then the reader should take a closer look at the text - both the main idea and supporting details. If there are only 3 dots, then the reader should take a longer look at the text - both the main idea and supporting details. Tex-Mechs is a first-person, single-player, action-adventure, sci-fi action game with a survival theme. Set in a technologically advanced, absurdist future where all sentient life forms evolved into insect-like, bipedal critters, it takes place on a dying planet called New Texas. In the year 2022, the planet New Texas is exposed to the deadly radiation of the sun. Exploiting this, corporations begin building giant, huge, mechs to provide a cheap and effective way to farm the now insect-filled land. With the rise of the giant-mech, a new era begins. Things begin well enough with the giant-mechs providing adequate food supply and air, the tech companies are providing safe housing and the giant-mechs have also become an economic force in the colony. Until you get a visit from strange aliens, "the Bugs", deep inside a hollowed out mountain on the planet. The Bugs are the anti-mechs - insect-like aliens, terrorizing the landscape, killing the human colonists and even those giant-mechs. They come in three types: Soldiers: the small, tenacious, super-intelligent and mutated bugs are at the front of the invasion. They are determined to destroy you and your fellow colonists, but if you can destroy one, more often than not, follow its lead and attack you. Grunts: the same size and shape as soldiers, but only as smart. They provide the aliens with infantry support. The most deadly type of Bug, Brutes: a fierce, boxy monstrosity with a powerful, mobile arm and a complicated, telekinetic body. They are the last line of defense for the bug forces. You use the only weapons the colonists have to fight them: repeater pistols, flame throwers and combine launchers. Now that you know how to fight the Bugs, it's time to fight them. The Bugs have overrun New Texas. You have no weapons, you have no mech, all you have are your wits, your repeater pistols, and a tough skin. Yes, you are totally badass. And you're the badass. Lehman downgraded to Junk Lehman Brothers (née Bank of America) has been downgraded to junk status by S&P. This marks the first time since d41b202975

Podcast: Week 3, 2018 Welcome to the Tex-Mechs Podcast, a weekly update of the Houston Rockets' progress around the world. This week, we have a special two-part episode discussing the suspensions for the Rockets' first two games of the season, the random happenings surrounding the season, and of course, the continued climb of 9th King James. This episode is also a question and answer session: What do you make of the 5-on-5 format? How about the decline in NBA player quality? If the Rockets continue to take a step backwards, is the arc toward the Western Conference Finals in place? The Rockets will be two games under .500, with the exceptions of a season-opening win over Cleveland and Thursday's season opener against the Warriors. The Rockets' Sean Kilpatrick accidentally hit James Harden, who was on the bench, in the face with a face mask. Harden was uninjured. Podcast hosts Kevin O'Connor and Dustin White thought it would be fun for all of us to have a group text message regarding the first two games. Click and tell the guys why you agreed or disagreed with their answer, or some unique relationship to the Rockets or the A.I. Tweaks! Globetrotter David Clayer joins our weekly podcast! He has the scoop on the 9th King James including how he finally got to meet, and interview him for the first time. A perfect fit for our standing cast who's heard/seen James speak many, many times. What Will the 9th King James Impression Be? Tex-Mechs is now part of the Kia James Harden Girls podcast which will hopefully be featuring more interviews about the Rockets and the King James himself. Check out the podcast's official page here, and find them via the PigeonRock Podcast Source Site. Houston was quick to meet with San Antonio assistant Norm Perez over the weekend to negotiate a two-year deal. If all goes according to plan, there's a 50/50 split in salary, with the Rockets paying $2.5 million for the second year of the deal. Most NBA teams pay the league minimum per year for second contracts, but the Rockets could be able to use his services as an off-ball coordinator/offensive assistant or as an elite-case shooter. Dodds has tremendous length, an
