"I would charge Barr as attorney general with acting for the president in declaring war on the Mueller report and trying to remove this cloud that has been hanging over him and the presidency from day one," diGenova said in response to a question from host Kimberly Guilfoyle. "Asking the attorney general to take a contract and start giving him a salary should he declare war on the FBI," diGenova said, referring to the Justice Department. ADVERTISEMENT Barr has faced increasing pressure from Democratic lawmakers to resign over his handling of the Mueller report. Barr testified in front of the Senate Judiciary Committee last month and agreed that it was "inappropriate" for him to come to conclusions on the Trump campaign's possible collusion with the Russian government, a finding he repeatedly said was "not a conclusion of law." Barr defended his handling of the Mueller report during a joint press conference with Trump last month, saying that it was "as transparent as it could be." DiGenova, who served as a federal prosecutor on the Watergate special prosecutor's team, lambasted Barr in particular for the way in which he described the findings of the Mueller report. "Barr said that his job as attorney general is to review the facts of the report and make a judgment, not to make a judgment," diGenova said. "That is a lie." "Barr is telling us that he has a legal contract to remove the cloud," diGenova said. "He is saying the attorney general is a court. It is not that." "He looks at the report as facts," diGenova added. "Every day, the president says the attorney general's report is a hoax." Ranking Member of the House Judiciary Committee Rep. If you are sent back to Babylonia, you will have a happy life for the remainder of your life. But if you remain here, you will die a homeless man.'" "He replied, 'My dear lady, what is the worth of my life? In that case I would say that my wife is correct. I should return to Babylonia where I can live
