I have been working with the facebook graph api and have been able to successfully post and read most things. I can successfully post a comment using the following api call graph.addComment(postId, message); I have successfully been able to get comments from the id of the post and comments of the post. What I cannot figure out is how to merge multiple comments into a single post/comment. I can find examples to post comments for the post but nothing on a single post/comment. A: After you get your comment(s) and you want to delete them, you'll need to use the endpoint /comments/{comment-id}/remove. Don't forget to replace the comment-id with the one you just retrieved!
