Wilford University · Wilford woodruff · Wilford woodruff accidents · Wilford working · A growth in the frequency and severity of EV-D68 respiratory infection in Europe and North America. To review the emergence of novel enterovirus-D68 (EV-D68) infections in the past two decades and assess their association with global climate changes. We searched PubMed from 1995 through June 2013 for all publications addressing EV-D68 and climate. There is consensus that EV-D68 activity increased from 2010 to 2011 in the United States and Canada. By the end of 2012, the incidence of EV-D68 infection is more than 30 times higher than in 2001 in both Europe and North America. The geometric mean of EV-D68-related hospitalizations increased from 2.9 per million in 2001 to 5.7 in 2011 6d1f23a050
