We have over 25 years of experience, and are extremely proud of our track record. However, our operation and philosophy has never changed, and even now we maintain the same lean, mean, super-efficient fixed price, fast turn-round services. But we will always ensure our clients get the best of what we have to offer. Your requirements mean nothing to us. Our aim is to deliver a complete solution for you, to allow for the best possible results. And our very best customer, Aon, has just asked us to set up their new global core payroll & HR operation, and to help them develop and implement all their processes. The hurdles that an office or global organisation faces in an HR department are in our opinion much bigger than they should be. The key to getting out of these hurdles is having the right tools to enable efficient processes and results. There are so many solutions available to us, that we tend to gravitate towards those solutions which are 'uncomplicated', and which are 'simple and immediate'. And while we have access to some of the best the world has to offer, we tend to go with the cheapest solution which fits all our criteria perfectly. But in this instance we have realised that our clients are not just after the lowest price, but they also require the very best in what they offer, as well as a solid and proven track record. This can be more than a little difficult to gauge at times, and we are incredibly fortunate that some of the largest global organisations in the world choose to entrust their HR systems to us. So in this case we feel that we have to take a little bit more time to make sure that they get the best of what we offer. After all, the alternative is far worse than that. We have seen time and time again that if we deliver the very best products and services, but we don't deliver them in the manner that is expected by the client, then they always end up getting quite upset with us... and if we let them down, then
